SN Works with Financial Advisory Firm to Meet Compliance & Insurance Requirements

The Challenge

A financial advisory firm sought assistance in satisfying regulatory compliance and insurance requirements, as well as determining if they had any unknown exploitable vulnerabilities.

The SN Solution

SN's cyber team performed a penetration test to identify vulnerabilities within their infrastructure. The penetration test involved ethical hacking which simulated an actual cyber-attack. The test considered both the client's internal network as well as external Internet facing network assets.

After the test was completed, SN provided the client with a detailed report outlining the technical findings and providing prioritized recommendations to remediate areas of vulnerability. SN worked with the client to mitigate the issues that were identified, shore up controls that were either lacking or misconfigured, and develop a security enhancement plan.

The Benefits

The client was able to satisfy both their compliance and insurance requirements, but by far the biggest benefit was a stronger infrastructure and cyber posture.

Through SN's suggested vulnerability remediation, the client has gained confidence in their overall cybersecurity and feel prepared in the case of an attempted attack. They have adopted a proactive mindset that will position them for greater success and a competitive advantage.
